Restaurants & Bars
Simple, Fast, and Easy to Use

Streamline Restaurant Operations

As soon as a server places an order, it is automatically routed to the proper printer so that preparation can begin immediately. No longer will the servers have to wait around the bar for drink orders. The customer gets served in half the time, compared with ordinary cash registers. Servers will never have to walk into the kitchen or bar to place order, which the chefs love. Faster service means faster table turnover and more customers.

Common Sense Approach

Orders are transmitted to the kitchen or bar and printed in bold print on paper tape that is easy to read. Eliminate hard to read handwriting and forgotten modifiers (give away items). If a mistake is made, the hard copy is available for the manager to find out when the order was sent to the kitchen, what time, and by whom. Modifiers will be defined in special red print.
